The Process of Becoming a Track & Field Official

The completion and return of this form will register you with the Southern California Track & Field Officials Committee and begins the following process:

1. You will receive, complete, and return a rules test.
2. You must attend a clinic.
3. Your name will then be added to the Commissioner's officiating assignment lists, and, having met the certification requirements, you will be certified nationally at the Association level. (Although you will have an opportunity to select a maximum of six skill areas in which you would prefer to officiate, this does not preclude you being assigned to other events when needed.)
4. After being certified, you will receive a Practicum Completion form which requires you to complete seven areas of officiating assignments before you can be advanced to National level.
5. You must continue to attend a minimum of one officiating clinic annually and continue to be a USATF member.

A minimum of one certified official must endorse you.

My signature below indicates that I believe that I am in good enough health to officiate track & field events.
